PROLOGUE

She can see the brightest of brightness in this vulnerable yet short life. Lately, she has been followed by a small bright sparkle. It is a spirit, shaped but not really circle or cube. She ventures so many conditions in an immediate time and many strangers come to her life also talking about this life. She always helps everyone and there are always people who help her make it true. The people who pretend to be strange to Adis actually know her pretty well. The journey begins by meeting one, two, three people in the cafe, crowd.

CHAPTER ONE

Mornings always show the same view to her, the same dew, and the same ecliptic. In the morning she wakes up so early that the birds are not even awake. Facing Mountain View, there Adis sits on the balcony with a cup of cold chocolate. She thinks of the day when she will just sit and look at something that make her eyes cannot stop looking at that. She always imagines of how one day she can look at something very deeply and hoping nothing can break her life. She says that something about life as if it is not tear then is laughter.

Time shows that she has to go home; it is the best moment for her as she can reflect on her whole day starting from getting up. She starts by thinking the last sentence she heard after finishing her last activity, then moves to the morning when she woke up and got out of bed. She thinks that reflecting those moments is main point of this life.

She remembers that she has been in so many conditions, and surely she knows that there are things that can be good and bad. She heard so many stories until now; the stories are all about mortality. Her grandfather ever told her that feeding chicken will bring Adis to mortality. Her grandfather said that she is living here to help the Lord do his task; she has to do that so she can be beside the Lord. One example of helping is feeding animals. It was an awesome story for her. It touched her heart since then. What he said just brings imaginations of valuing things for best purpose in living this life. There was also an old lady she saw on the main street when she was going to college. An old lady brought some woods that she would use for cooking. At that time, Adis accompanied her home and helped to carrying the wood into the kitchen. The kitchen is really small and full of dust. There in the kitchen she told Adis that the essential of this life is to help and socialize without thinking of other appearance, social status, gender and age. She said that mostly life is to care about everyone without judging. She said that we are alive to live together until death tears us apart. Adis asked the lady how to live well; the lady answered that it is by means of understanding what our Lord thinks we are supposed to do. Adis felt it to the bottom of her heart and she kept it for her whole of her life that she would understand everyone and everything.

Who else taught her about life? Herself. She did even recognize the most important of this life. She believes the essential thing is to do is kindness. Her life runs normally but she is adorable the way she learns from experiences and nature. She understands very well that life is a balance between happiness and sadness.

So Adis is going to a house bringing her backpack full of important stuff and three lunch boxes by riding motorcycle. She only wears jacket, black jeans and white shoes which indicates her style.

She arrives at that house. Then she calls for the boy to find out is if present or not. She enters the house and calls out several hellos. No one answers; she tries several more times to find out if the boy is present, but still no one. She stays for an hour. No one arrives to the house to her or even replies to her hello. She opens her book and starts describing that house in her journal. She describes the house with all corners and the plastic trees. The house is not an empty house yet it is not occupied. Yeah, it is really nice here; there is no dark place or even a dirty floor, yet windy, clean, and comfortable. In a corner, there set a comfortable table with two chairs and one vase on the table, she sits there and opens her bag to take her note. She starts feeling the vibe in the house from the corner she is sitting.

Adis is my name.

I love this place even though I just knew this house.

I am here to write about the boy I met here before.

The wind softly enters the room and fills every corner of the room. It just makes her sleepy and after a few hours of writing, she falls asleep. She dreams about the house.

After awhile she wakes up and notices that the house is still the same as before her dream. The only difference is that the little boy is playing on the second floor. Then, she tries to approach that boy while opening her bag to get the lunch box as the clock shows that it is 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

‘Hello how are you? Do you like to play with me?’

‘I would love to’ the little boy replies while looking at Adis. He seems happy that he had met Adis.

‘Nice! I would love to play with you. Yesterday I saw you here, and do you live here?’

‘Ah about that! No. I live with my parents, but this house is where I play every day. I love to spend my day here but my friends just don’t like this place as much as I do.’ He wants to explore the house but he wants some friends to accompany him.

‘Oh I see ... that’s it! Anyway what is your name? It is better that I know your name.’ Adis says.

Len is his name with his tiny body and brown eyes he stands in front of Adis and points upward to the window. Then, they plan to clean the house so there will be no dust in the house. They both make their assignments there. They both share with each other, such as, sharing their lunch boxes. Their conversations are about so many different topics. Len tells that he has a beautiful pet but he can leave the pet for the whole day at home as his pet is a snail. They just start laughing. Adis knows that there is something with Len. She cares of him so there is something Adis need to finish to Len.

Adis also tells that she is really enthusiastic with many new things. She motivates Len about how to face difficulties in this life and accordingly Adis and other people she meets are supposed to understand each other and keep getting pushed in the hopes that future will come better. Adis always believes on positive so then everything can be finished.

She tells to len the her bad days, like when she find out so many difficulties that bring her very wise in this Life.

‘I know who you are Adis. I can see it on your eyes and the way you join me here. We have done so many things here. I know and I have been created to know as well. Look at that window! There where we spend our summer hour.’ The little boy Len says that sentence in the time they will leave that house. While taking serious on the assignment in front of the door, he go further away from the house that he will go home. Adis smiles at him and go home thinks of the day and Len. It is on the special day when Len wanted to talk a little clue about him for Adis.

Every single Sunday Adis tries to approach Len so she can know more about why Len stays at that house. In which Len somehow will say that he just very comfort to stay at that house.

‘I am fragile outside this house, Adis!’

‘Don’t worry, time will fly, Len!’

When in a silent –both do their task- Len might explain his feeling of how afraid he is. They keep in touch together and complete each other. Adis will help Len and so does Len. They will try to finish any assignment as soon as possible so they can spend the rest time to play or explore the house. In break time, they will have milk or tea which they bring from home.

Adis actually observes him when they are together. She tries to do that without asking question to Len because she knows that Len is only a little kid. She notices that several times Len keeps looking at the window. Then, his tears apply on his cheeks. On the other side, Adis does not want to approach him. It is because Adis knows that from the beginning Len does not want to share the problem in his life.

Fortune comes to their friendship. Adis tries so hard to find what happens to Len. Then she visits his parents on the day they usually together. On Sunday Adis meets with his Mom. There she is informed that Len is depressed. Len cannot socialize very well but Adis can help him. His mommy said that there is a time Len first time says about friend after two years. Yeah, two years that Len does not socialize with his friends.

Meeting with Len's mom, Adis only has a question that she offers to his mom. That is about how Len really love to stay at that house. The answer is that because Len cannot socialize well with his friends for about two years. Adis does not want to look at his past but thinking of how to make him better. As what she does in her lovely family, she tries to be warm for everyone near her.

One of her ideas is that to invite him to go to the park. Then she thinks that it is too fast to invite Len somewhere. She have the second chance, she brings puppets to him. They play with the puppets and say that the puppets are their friends. Through the puppets she wants to know how to make him better.

But tears are what they get together. Len even remembers his past again. He cries while looking at the window. He asks Adis several questions. With a high tone voices Len shouts that he does not want to go out. Then Adis hugs him tightly.

Adis decides to be by him side along his time and she believes after time flies, Len will become better. She realizes that his parents must do so many solutions for him, but that house is where he can feel comfortable and with Adis beside him. Her heart believes that the boy she meets near the river can be better after times. Both Adis and Len –the boy- need times to fly. Her warm heart will build Len’s heart better.

At night Adis thinks of Len the depressed little boy and her heart starts beating slow and her mind cannot stop of thinking ideas to develop Len better. She plans to find place where she can focus and enjoy her time, she prefer to go to the park so she can relax there. Whether she needs time to remember the detail or just sit there and read.

CHAPTER TWO

It follows her and she follows it back. It is begun without any reasons that she copes with many conditions which are not merely normal with what others do experience. Every day she reads a book at her verandah with a pink glass fill up with cold chocolate milk. She really loves to read the book in the morning that she can get more information. She really wants and needs information in her life as she usually takes care of somebody who needs help. She is always willing to help and she will learn a lot in order to help. She believes that by reading she knows many things. Whatever the information she wants to know, she will read. Sometime her mother will sits beside her to join reading a book as well. In their verandah with five trees in the yard and some beautiful flowers in each corner of the yard give it very good morning affection for her and also her Mom.

‘Dear, did you meet the little boy again yesterday?’ Her Mom interrupts Adis while she is writing.

‘Sure Mom, we have a very great Sunday yesterday as always.’ Adis says.

‘Right, that is good dear. Keep your friendship with him, you and he need each other and you complete each other as well.’ Mom says.

‘Well, you are right Mom. We feel really cozy at that house, and we can share many things to each other.’ Adis starts to tell more stories to her Mom.

Then her Mom would like to go inside to talk to meet with her Daddy, but then Adis calls her Mom again.

‘Mom, want you hear me telling a story about the little boy?’ She shouts.

‘Sure Dear. Now I will listen at you.’ Then her Mom returns to her.

‘His name is Len. He is really lovely and funny. He said that he found a best friend in me. It is because his friends have a very different opinion with him. His friends did not want to come to that house though Len explained that the house is really comfortable. Then, in his age he really loves reading and playing alone, before I join him. He also told me that he already waited for me before I came.’

‘This is life with all the activities, meeting new friend, facing difficulties, celebrating something. He needs you Adis and both of you can complete to each other. That house is a good place for you to get the idea and enjoy your time. Isn’t it?’ Her Mom answers while smiling and still bringing her book. Then, she moves to leave Adis alone at verandah.

She turns each page like she really enjoy reading that no one can help. She continues reading before eight o’clock that she will have breakfast together and share a little thing to her father.

‘Dear, do you have a new friend lately?’ Her Father asks.

‘Yes Daddy, a little boy. I met him at a house we passed a week ago and we spent our days there. Our moments just bring me more life experiences daddy! I really take care of him’

‘Right, take care yourself, love others and always help as you can.’

After thirty minutes, her Father leaves home to work and her Mother backs to kitchen so she can cook anything she wants to cook while her brother even not yet takes a bath. While Adis will take her note so she can finish her reading. On her laptop, there are some to do lists, but she bolds one of them which is to meet her best friend in order to discuss about Len, that house, and other things. She meets Dandan after preparing the laptop and her bag. Dandan's house is not really far from the t-junction near Adis's house. There Adis tells her the chronology and invites her to join. But unfortunately Dandan does not want to join.

‘Adis! I don't want to go to places that cannot are not familiar with me, and you know it! I go to school is a must so that is why I go to school instead of having treatments at home.’ She says about Adis' planning. Dandan is a girl who really does not like to go somewhere which is not known. It is okay for Adis but she still needs her comment about Len.

‘The fact, you said that you complete to each other. May be you can find out later after Len and you share more. Won't it be?’ Dandan suggests.

She thinks that her best friend will answer what runs over her mind. Adis wants to know her bounding between Len and herself that seem a typical relationship rather than friendship only. She continues her day by having lunch with her Mom who is busy making some cookies or other variant of foods. She has lunch and talks to her Mom about her feeling. She tells her that there is something a little bit strange with Len. She tries her best to make sure her Mom that Len is meant something to her. In thirty minutes, she can tell her Mom about Len more than her usual story. They start lovingly care with that little boy.

She believes about what happen in her life is already settled. She would follow everything based on what happen and be happy of it. She thinks to behold Len next Sunday. Adis thinks that it is not a usually thing for her as she does not directly ask Len. She already pretends that the next day won't be like the activity she usually does with Len. On an bright morning they again have time to play together; she helps Len and Len as the little boy needs her. Len begins to share his feeling in good time and Adis starts to know the strange feeling that she got with lately.

Adis visualizes in her heart on how she would like to get his feeling without taking his attention. She does not only observe Len because she feels there is something different with herself as well. She remembers that she can feel something as she has a good intuition.

Her Mother always tells Adis that she has good intuition since she was a kid. Many things run over her mind and Adis can feel that the feelings itself always won't be regular things. When Len says that they ever together at a window at the house where they stay together every Sunday, Adis begins thinking on how could Len says so.

‘Len!’ Adis is shouting unconsciously as she keeps giving a lot of thoughts.

‘There is something in his heart though he looks okay and fine. Len has something that is untold to me but actually he is telling me. Now I know that it is not about me. It is about Len.’ She tries to conquer it in her heart. She realizes another thing. Len say something about the window as he remembers moment of himself there.

Her intention to help him makes her care of him more. She really helps him from the botton of her heart. Time seems flying faster and she does not wait Sunday to come that she can meet him, but she will visit him soon. So the next day, she prepares to go to that house and meet Len. She really knows that she should stay by his side soon. Len needs her.

‘Adis! You are coming’ with a very happy face, Len greets her in the morning. Len is always happy and cheerful, but his eyes tell more than his happiness. Adis can recognize something in Len like it is planned for them to meet.

‘Yes Len! How are you? Do you have your breakfast already?’ She talks to Len while parking her motorcycle.

‘Sure. Mommy made me pineapple pancake. And I bring it here as well.’ Len says.

‘Pancake is my favorite Len. And pineapple is a lovely additional for it. Yummy! I think that you have class today, don’t you?’ Adis replies.

‘Pretty sure! Well I do have class today but I have home schooling. It’s nice.’ He winks at her.

They sit to each other and begin the conversation by discussing pancake and home schooling. Len tells that he prefers home schooling because he prefers to be at home longer rather than spending time outside home. But at the middle of their conversation, Adis cuts off and asks him a question.

‘Do you have older sister, Len?’

‘I had a lovely sister. Yes, she is lovely. She cares of me a lot. We usually spend time together most of the day.’

‘Yes. She must love you so much. You are a cute little boy huh!’ Adis says it happily.

‘You have to manage your own life with only you stand in your body. You are Len with a very good personality.’ Adis adds.

Adis knows that Len feels lonely because of his sister already passed away. He says that Len and Adis usually stay at a window at that house. He actually means his sister. Adis already knows that there is something happened with him since that time. She wants to know more as she always cares to anybody who needs him. Then, she tries to find out something about them; she wants to know more about that two siblings. Adis decides to explore his favorite house. On the second floor of that house, there she finds a kids club. She enters the kids club. In detail, she notices much stuff in that room. There are cute vases over two tables. There are pictures of Len’s family and there are Len’s grandparents pictures hanged at the wall. After looking on those pictures and the entire wall, she sits at the table. There is tarot over the table and she become more curious about that tarot. She opens its drawer and there are pictures of his sister and a letter. She finds out that his sister was a fortune teller.

Several pictures are about what his sister does to many people in reading their fortune. There is crystal ball in her picture and with a very serious tense of her face. There are more than twenty pictures.

Pictures, letters and every precious thing that bring sweet memories about Len and his sister are kept in that drawer. She also finds that there is a piece of paper superimposes those pictures. Adis reads the letter and she knows a very wonderful story about her journey in living her life. Yes, it is about her as well as Len.

Adis sits at the chair near the drawer. She starts reading it with her hands on the table. The letter is for her family and her lovely brother as the most. The letter begins with an opening “Don’t mind. I know it will be happening to me.” Her family never expects this letter. On the second paragraph written “She knows the day when her soul disappears from her body.” Adis cannot hold her tears and she continues to read the letter. She feels that Len’s sister does a very hard work and she is a lovely sister in Len’s family. Adis can imagine how her heart works when she become a fortune teller. So that’s why she tries so hard to figuring out Len’s future. Adis knows more about Len from the letter. She reads the fourth paragraph written “Len, you won’t be alone! Just wait the moment and she will come. Your hard time of waiting will be paid. I wish you this.” Adis starts to realize herself and in a hurry she puts back the letter.

‘I am the girl that Len has been waiting.’ She says.

Adis is the one who Len waits since his sister leaving. Reading the characteristics mentioned in the letter, Adis notices that the one who is described in the letter is herself. It says that the girl has a very lovely smile, cheerful, caring and alike with Len’s sister. Adis finds out that she seems like his sister.

Adis backs to go downstairs. Five minutes long hug is given to Len from Adis without any tears. They share so many smiles on their cheeks. Jesline is a fortune teller and she guesses that there will be a girl who seems like her and will take care of her brother. Jesline prepares the letter that is dedicated to Adis. There are the answers of what is her relation with Len. Adis does not question herself or figure out the moments but she splashes on her note.

CHAPTER THREE

The yellow tree is a place where she reads, thinks and stays on Sunday. She always admires it because when snow comes, the yellow just disappears. She is happy and powerful the way she is. She never forgets to cheer up her family and also the others. Twenty years old girl who is living downtown grows fast. She really loves to go somewhere every weekend to explore place she does not know. She is the most diligent student that will finish every task before Sunday.

As usual that she will ride motorcycle to the park so that she can enjoy breathing the air outside while riding. She will reach the park around 40 minutes passing few houses to be there. She always focuses while riding safely.

‘Okay now let me here for three hours with you’ she is having deep breath while talking.

A child passes her by and he is trying to talk to her ‘Hi, where are your family? You have a nice carpet here.’ The child plays there trying to get her attention.

‘Hi kid you are a nice boy, come and sit here! I have something for you and I can tell a story for you, read a book for you, and also I can share my food to you.’ She greets him nicely.

She invites back that little boy to sit with her in her place. That little boy is sitting next to her and pointing on a book brought by Adis.

‘My name is Geon.’ The cute boy says.

‘Geon, this book is a book given from my lovely Mother, there is a very sweet boy in this book.’ So she reads the book to him.

‘Mom! Where did I put my key? I want to prepare my stuff because I want to continue to ride after an hour here. Wait, where is Geon? Geon... Geon ... where are you bro?’ On the other side, there is an adult shouting.

‘Geon, I heard there is someone is calling your name, didn’t you tell your family that you leave to go here? You may go back to your family and tell them that you are reading here, Good boy.’ Then he is going back, and after Geon leaving, she lays there while enjoying every single breath of fresh air. Not more than ten minutes, Geon comes back to Adis with his brother.

‘Hi Adis! Did you just read a story of two little twin for Geon? You are so kind, I forgot to introduce my name but I keep asking you question. My name is Gill’.

Adis is listening to him while having a very sweet smile as well ‘Oh Hi guys! You come back here Geon. Uh, yes I read him that story as he love it and fortunately that I always bring this book. You guys can join me here, I will love to. Geon and Gill have a sit here ...’

They have a great picnic together until an hour and suddenly Gill gets up as he remembers that he will continue riding ‘Guys, it has been an hour and this is the time.’ He actually forgets that he was in hurry.

Geon cuts off ‘This must be his time to ride his motorcycle alone and will be back after the sunset’

‘Is he? I have the same to do list after this actually. I think that it is enough to take breathe in this favorite place already and let’s go to the next destination’

‘What a nice day today to go through this summer today guys’ both of Geon and Adis are shouting at the park.

Adis is now preparing to go to the parking area and would like to continue to have lunch under her favorite big tree. While she is talking to two her new friends ‘Okay, it is really nice to meet guys today. And now that Gill will go somewhere and I also would like to go somewhere. Yeah I love exploring the road on Sunday’. She is very happy and ready to leave the park.

‘Adis! It will be nice if we go together to have a journey exploring places today.’ Gill invites her and this is where they start the journey together by riding motorcycle through the road to find Adis’ favorite big tree.

They arrive on a nice place that Adis called to be the favorite place to get idea. ‘So here we are Gill!’ Here they stay under the tree, enjoy the wind and share ideas. The wind blows so calmly as they prepare for each lunch and they have lunch together. Gill starts noticing Adis with a cute smile on his face. He notices that Adis is really different with other girls, he notices Adis sweetly smile to him and it starts to become something different on his heart.

‘It has been two years that I really love this place. I admire this life so much and that is why I always give time to explore places in this life’. Adis talks while looking straight to a small flower in front of eyes.

Gill with big effort tries to hold Adis’ hand and he holds her hand. Adis also does the same and they take a rest under the tree until afternoon nearly ends. The alarm rings cut off that moment because it has been three hours already. Then, they continue to ride while observing pedestrian. The way Adis observes the pedestrian also turn to noticing Gill. They ride until the sun set and the time to go back home. Both are going home, but they have shared contacts already.

The next Sunday they plan to meet again and do the same thing to enjoy the nature. They talk about daily life, they have joke while having soft drink and they smile each other. Adis seems miss this moment so much, she stares Gill for few minutes then moves to look at the tree, preparing foods, but she will stare Gill again after few minutes later.

‘This is a very beautiful place Adis, I really love this place. You are great girl that you have been doing this for two years and you dedicate yourself to observing kind of this place’. Gill talks to Adis while he keeps enjoying the environment under the big tree.

‘Well, I know that this is extraordinary, it gives me lots of good feeling to be here, it gives me spirit, so that I can come here.’ Adis says.

And those Moments are happening for several times until they also share about problems that they have, they often go to coffee shop and hang out there. Adis routines now become more, as she has to accompany Gill somewhere that he wants to visit. It makes her prepare so many things faster so that she can have a day free still on Sunday.

It works, she always finish her responsibilities on Saturday. Her family always gives warm love to her. They always smile every time in their house. Adis on every day be like, wake up on 5 o’clock in the morning so that she has an hour earlier to help her in finishing every responsibility. Right, an hour earlier always mean a lot to her.

At a flower shop on Saturday, she would like to buy her Mother a bucket of roses. They meet there.

‘Adis! Do you buy roses?’ Gill greets from his car as he wants to visit the flower shop but then he cancels it.

She feels surprise meeting him there ‘Gill! Come here and get some flowers, I buy roses for my Mother.’

‘I saw there is no jasmine here; I’ll find another flower shop. Take care Adis ...’ He goes.

Then she goes home bringing cake and flower. Again surprisingly, Gill is at her sofa now. It makes her really happy and she appreciates it so much. Gill there invites her to prepare a picnic for the next Sunday under the big tree. He tells that they will only stay there until sunset and they have no plan to go to another place.

As usual, Adis always have time on Sunday. ‘Mom I already had breakfast, now I will go, bye everybody!’ She excitedly leaves her house. At the moment while she is riding motorcycle, she does not really focus on riding and it is because of Gill. She thinks of him on the way to the tree too much. Yeah, big trees on summer will always give the feeling of beautifulness and awesome environments, on the situation like that and thinking about Gill, Adis is falling in love with Gill.

‘Hi Adis! I think you will drive car today because I think you will bring so many stuff. I drive my car today because I do bring so many things’ Gill shouts at Adis while she is still on her motorcycle.

‘No worries, I can handle this.’ Adis says

‘Sure, you are pretty cool girl, Right.’ Gill replies

After preparing the carpet, foods and books, they seem busy on their activity before stay to enjoy the wind under the tree and the environment. They finish the preparation already but Adis still stare at Gill.

As Adis stares at Gill, there is girl come out from the car. Adis see her with beautiful dress, long hair, and charm face. ‘Hi!’ the girl greets her.

Gill comes to hold the girl’s hand and introduces her to Adis ‘She is Clara, we have been apart for two years. Yeah, we have a long distance relationship and you know how it feels?’ Gill happily asks a question to Adis about how it feels to have long distance relationship and he continues ‘I always come to nature so I can feel her existence with me as I always miss her so much. She has to study abroad because she got scholarship; today Clara and I meet for the first time after two years apart.’ He hugs Clara and kisses her forehead and hugs her again. Then, they sit next to Adis. He continues talking with a happy feeling seen from his face ‘I am waiting her for two years, and as you said that you have been traveling for two years, I got the same, it is also exactly two years for me Adis!’

‘Hello Adis! So you are the girl that accompanies Gill to explore some places here right? You are so kind Adis’ Clara greets Adis with full of thanks to her.

‘Oh hi Clara, I am Adis, nice to meet you! So how do you feel about this place?’

‘This is a very great place on summer like this, this is excellent. I really love this place that I can relax here and also wait for the sunset. Under a big tree with you guys here is extraordinary for me’

‘Yeah, this place is the best place for me, I always come here every Sunday, and maybe I will come here frequently, not only on Sunday.’ Adis replies with a lovely smile on her face. She still has a kind heart and lovely smile enjoying the day together with them.

After the sunset on this day, they go home. Adis goes home to the same way she goes home every Sunday. But today there is something different with her. She goes home with bigger love that she holds on her heart. She continues to explore other places as she thinks that there are so many unexpected moments that she will get on her way. She can handle everything that happens on her as long as she gives meaning on it. She lives her life happily and even the more important that nature gives her lot of spirit as long as she means to be exceptional.

CHAPTER FOUR

A girl in a coffee shop, at the park, and at the edge of the street seem confused; they even look alike however they are doing busy on their own. One holds book, one holds cup of coffee, and one with her bicycle.

‘No! I got an intention from those girls I met.’ Adis talks to herself on her way to her bedroom. She is really curious yet she tries to ignore.

She never thinks of meeting three people that brings a lot of concerns into her life; she does not think that there is relation with the spirit in this life she believes existed. She has the spirit that gives another sight to her daily life. Adis becomes more curious about those girls but she has nothing to do since they are all strangers. She continues thinking again as she gets a message at the end of December written by Alex, her friend that tells her about her fortune whenever she goes to cafe or meets him.

Adis feels that his text consorts something and she decides make a note on her schedule to check over it.

‘Thanks for giving me a very comfortable scarf. I really like this. May God Bless You Adis.’ He only has three sentences on the letter.

It is 8 o’clock on Sunday morning and her siblings really want pizza, ice cream and latte. It is pleasure for her to help her siblings likewise she always gives her time to her family; she never complains about that but she is willing to do that. So she goes to the cafe where her friend works. She calls Alex to order medium pizza, three ice creams and two lattes as what her siblings request for. Then Alex accepts the order and accordingly makes her orders. After looking on the order list, then his hands start to process the orders. While the orders are processed, Alex looks at Adis and asks her to sit. He wants to give his time five minutes for her to tell about her fortune.

Well Adis sits as she is also willing to listen at Alex. She never really appreciates what Alex says about her fortune but she appreciates him. After few minutes, Alex comes to her table, with his uniform and the Rolex watch. He will look at his Rolex watch to check the minutes he has to talk to Adis. He sits adjoining by the table and he starts to tell Adis about her day and also the fortunes for her.

‘Now you have to consider the main entrance at your house, there will be something happening there, focus on the right side and look at the cat sleeping there. It needs some foods, Adis!’

‘Well, Alex, sure I do!’

‘Hahaha! No. It is not. It won’t be like that. This time I only want you to know that you have a big spirit in yourself more than yesterday’s, so you will be able to do so many things today, including finishing the task from your lecturer that has been stuck for two weeks!’ Alex seems really happy that he jokes her.

‘Oh Alex, you are so nice. Yeah, right... anyway that assignment has been stuck for around two weeks and I don’t have an idea of how to get started with that task. I already read seven books this week but I still don’t have idea about that assignment, well now I will finish it then. You know the joke Alex!’

Her orders are ready and Adis prepares to go back home with a big intention to take her assignments later. She waves to Alex and sweetly smiles to him. Alex from the corner smiles while looking on his shoes and continues to the pantry.

In fifteen minutes she is home. She gives the pizza to her siblings, two ice creams and two lattes, while she only brings an ice cream to her bedroom. In a very hurry, she goes upstairs to enter her bedroom, takes her laptop and sits over the sofa with pink cushion next to her bed. Then, she accordingly remembers to make her assignment; she becomes more confident and understands all the knowledge she has read and her hands is dancing over her laptop.

She feels like really understand that her lecturer wants her to acknowledge the ideas from the second book that she has read, but she just realizes it after Alex tries to support her. She just recaps her assignments. She then finishes it in two hours without going out of her bedroom. She does not need any other inspirations again because Alex suggests her already. Then some two hours is passed, she goes downstairs while she is printing her paper to find her Mom at kitchen. She tells her that she is really happy about herself that can finish the task. She tells that she is inspired by Alex with his style who seems like fortune teller. In other case, her Mom supports her again by telling that her hard work makes thing better as always. Then Adis says that it is also affected by Alex.

‘but Mom ...’ she answers in the time Mom suggests her.

‘Now please blend all the ingredients for twenty minutes! Help me to prepare cake for the kids on Sunday darling! Please take me the spoon!’ Her Mom cuts off.

After helping her Mom then she goes upstairs to check her printing so then she finishes by putting it on a map. It is 4 o’clock now. She will take her favorite book and read it until the time to have dinner. Then she seriously focuses reading because she does not want to even notice anything; even though there is sparkling in her mirror for around five minutes. The sparkling appears into Adis’ face in the mirror; it appears using Adis’ clothes. Then it changes into small body and again change into bigger body until the shine is off suddenly.

After three hours she finishes the end of the day by having dinner. With already dresses on her pajamas she plans to meet with Alex and have a traveling with him tomorrow

‘Adis, thanks for inviting me, I always give you five minutes, and now I’ll give you five hours, you know

I always love to tell your fortune because I want you to live a happy life darling.’ Alex says on the telephone.

It makes both of them have time to be together and share ideas to each other. At night, they prepare the things they need to have for tomorrow. And each of them cannot wait for the morning to come.

‘Okay now prepare yourself and ride your motorcycle!’ Adis seems bossy to him.

Well then the tomorrow comes and they are ready. They ride motorcycle with all the stuff on their backpacks. They arrives at a park to have picnic together, they prepare all things and they find that there is a girl nearly fall down from her motorcycle, then Alex runs to her and helps her; Adis follows him and saves that girl.

‘Thank you.’ The girl slowly leaves them after that; it leaves questions for people who sees her smile. It happens to both of them that they really feel curious about that girl as the girl only passes them.

They go back to their carpet. Along the way to their carpet, Alex holds Adis’ hand and this is not because he wants to read about Adis’ hand as if he is a fortune teller, but he wants to feel more comfortable with Adis, he always loves her and takes care of her. After twenty minutes enjoying the vibe, they start talking again as if a kid discussing new toys.

‘Adis now you listen to me carefully, I know that you will get very unbelievable information in your life at this end of December. You have to be yourself! Do not mean or even get rude on something or someone that brings that unbelievable information. It will be happening darling.’ He touches her head and soaks her hair.

‘Yes sure, I know how to treat better everything Alex! Thank you. Well my resolution is to be as simple as possible. I will accept everything without question it.’ She charmingly replies. This is the first time they can hang out together and start from that Alex frequently meets Adis and he always takes care of her.

‘Adis, I hope that you always be the best person.’ This is what Alex hopes to her on his heart.

On an evening she makes her assignment but she cannot focus, then she look around to refresh her mind. Once she glances to the mirror, she finds a pink jacket in front of the mirror but then it disappears. Then she ignores it as usual she does not care about her stuff. But then she becomes remember with her pink jacket because of that. She remembers that her pink jacket is at Dandan's house. The shadow in the mirror does not lead her to a curiosity but just remembering her with her old jacket. She decides to take the jacket instead of thinking on that shadow.

The morning comes and she is ready for the day. She forgets about the pink jacket because on her mind is about the day with a bright day. Well, again, she gets stretching and looks to the mirror, but now she sees there are two of herself.

'Mom! What happens to my eyes!' She feels sad that she thinks her eyes need more attention though.

She tries to call her Mom to make her a cup of milk, as usual.

'Oh my God, I really want to drink my favorite milk so that's why I saw two of myself in the mirror.' She says while laughing and smiling on the milk given by her Mom She jokes her Mom.

'Today is Monday I will get ice cream on afternoon and meeting Alex there then I will end my day by reading my newest novel.' She talks to herself as she is preparing to go to the campus. She always has a good day everyday start from the morning until night. She does not forget to get ice cream so she goes to the cafe where Alex works as waiter. There she requests for an ice cream. She eats there and has a seat to wait for Alex. Alex seems really busy but still he waves to Adis. Until she finishes her meal there, Alex still does not approach her.

‘May be he is really busy so then he does not tell me something about me today. It’s okay I will come another time because we have been a month have not meet to each other. And it is nearly the end of December’ she thinks on her way back to home.

She does not really feeling good but she notices a girl with pink jacket at an alley near her house; the girl that seems caring her dog. She notices it because she wears the same jacket with the pink jacket she saw on the mirror at night. The she drives back to the girl. Looking on her car’s review mirror, she sees that the girl falls at the alley.

‘Hi, be careful, get up and hold my hand’

‘Thank ... you ...’ The girls answers with a very slow tone and seems really slow in speaking, and the pink girl keeps looking on Adis’ eyes.

‘Are you okay, you may sit here for a while and I’ll take you a bottle of water at my car, please wait.’ Adis runs to her car to get the water.

The girl drinks the water and again say thank you to Adis while keeps focusing looking on Adis’ eyes. This girl is the same girl with the girl that fell down from her motorcycle a month ago at the park. The girl at the park who leaves Adis and Alex with a very sweet smile, a strange feeling, and also the entire questions that comes from her.

‘I... I live near this alley and my name is ... Grace ..., I just arrived here recently. But I am alone here as my family will come here next month, so I just want to get some goods by myself.’ This girl tries to speak to Adis very slowly and calmly.

‘Nice to meet you Grace! You can call me Adis. And you can call me for a help as you want to.’ Adis excitedly would like to help her.

‘I already get all goods for a month. Thanks you Adis. Now I have to go back home. See you.’ But the girl refuses as she keeps talking slow and goes further.

‘Right then ... See you Grace, take care yourself.’ Adis waves on her as the girl is riding away from Adis.

At her house, Adis is busy looking for her diary and would like to write about the feeling she has today. She tries to find on the usual place, but she does not find it. She looks under the table, under her pillow, under her blanket but still there is no diary.

She is really panic because of that. She calls her Mom in a panic situation and she calls from upstairs. She tells her Mom of how important her diary is. She really wants her Mom to help her finding the diary as her diary is full of her important and precious story. From the kitchen her Mom tells her not to be panic, and she will help after her cooks are done. Her Mommy hugs her and tells her not to cry. But Adis still cries because of her diary. She thinks a lot of the memory she has written on her diary as she wants to make a new one. She remembers how she writes bad and good characters of her. She has written the moment she has with her close persons, her emotions and so many things.

Adis imagines that she will rewrite the diary but it is still impossible for her. Adis cries while sitting on her bed. After that she decides to meet with Alex. She is sure that Alex can help her in this situation. She has a very good intention to hear Alex's suggestion and tell him about this problem. So she goes back to the cafe.

She arrives there and runs in a hurry trying to call Alex with a small voice near the cashier. There she meets Alex. But unfortunately, Alex only waves again. As she really wants to talk to him, she sits there for an hour hoping that Alex will give her time like what he usually do when they meet; she hopes that he will tell her some fortunes. Until an hour and a half, Alex still does not come to talk with Adis.

Adis goes home while thinking of visiting Alex's house tomorrow morning so then she can tell the story with more time given for it. She keeps wondering about her diary again. But then she tries to keep it until tomorrow that she believes tomorrow she will get solution from Alex.

She arrives home and then goes upstairs so she can play with her laptop. Now she tries to keep busy so that she can forget about her diary for a moment. Then she checks her Email as usual to find out some requests from her fans to continue making YouTube film. But there is an Email received from Alex a week ago.

-/Thank you Adis. I just found that you are much more mature than the usual. I really enjoy the picnic today. Thanks for your kindness like making me delicious food that I ever eat for the first time. You said that you cannot cook! Umm...the fact said that your cooking just now was so amazing. Okay, I will eat your cooking four days after Christmas again. Right! You promise it darling. Bye bye/-

She is really confused with this inbox but she keeps thinking logically. Everything goes chaos. She wants to know the truth soon but she does not know how to do that yet. Then the only way to do is meeting and telling her Mom about this chaos.

She meets her Mom and tell every moments that were just happening in those months with her. Now her Mom does not cut off, but she tells her to be patient, calm and try to see everything with her eyes and her heart.

‘You know that you are born smart darling, you are born special and Alex is also born special and so is everybody.’ Her Mom tells her softly.

As the inbox says four days after Christmas, she prepares the plans for day of the day. It is on 29th of September 2017. She visits Alex's house on late night. There they are gathering. Adis comes without informing Alex as the fact that Adis also get the inbox.

'Hi Adis!' says the same girl with the pink jacket.

'Adis?' Alex is shock to look Adis comes to his house.

Adis looks to the girl's eyes and so does that girl. For fifteen minutes three of them only stand without saying any words or even questions. Until the girl sits and looks on her glass while crying softly and she starts to speak.

'I... I was... wrong that I did this... I am Alex's partner that has been separated for ten years as Alex had crushed and got amnesia. We are partner that have power to read someone's mind, fortune and also another that we can do with our power. We can change our body, but not our heart. This spirit we have is because of the purity of our heart. And this is our power.'

'Continue Grace.' Adis sits next to her and hugs her once.

‘I found Alex, my partner, whose name is actually Heive. I found him last month. His heart is still pure, so that is why he knows your fortune. I was really sad to know that he is amnesia, he cannot remember me. Then I make a plan to be as near as possible with him so I can help him recovering,’ Grace explains everything on that night. She explains that she tries to connect her heart to Heive but it is too difficult as he does not focus on her. So the first plan that she has to do is to reach him. She has to do many things that make them close, like the first time they meet when Grace fell down at the park. So that Grace at least can get his attention.

‘It was at the park when he helped me.’ She says sadly.

‘I felt it darling.’ Heive comes to Grace and hugs her. Their tears change into a couple of two sweet persons as a couple.

‘Heive will help me. I know that and you too. I know you Adis.’ Says Grace in tears. After her struggling and loneliness finally they can become together. There Adis experiences to be part of two spirits. Adis gets the lesson. She is really fortune to meet those two persons and becomes the chain in this universe to help a beautiful pure couple. She feels blessed all the time.

At the end, Grace gives back Adis' diary.

'I took it on your bedroom between your books. To make him feel comfortable, I have to imitate you as you are the only one he cares of. So that I can be by his side and have time with him more. You can feel it young Girl. His heart leads him to you and believes you to be his angel as you have the Purity Adis!'

CHAPTER FIVE

She never hate the rain, wind, fire, and the earth. Here in the top of her thinking, she remembers the things that have passed her life in the last four months. She is sitting under the tree at her family's house wearing her beloved pink dress. It is the first time she tries to remember something. She is just sitting on at bench with a sketch book on her laptop. She starts making a flower that she has seen at the edge a river, she continues making the stalk of the flower. After thinking few minutes while drawing the flower, she stops to think about the woman who stared at her intently.

She is thinking about a woman, who intently stared at here one week ago. That woman seemed want to know something about Adis. The woman standing there wearing black t-shirt and holding a purse in her hand, sweetly smiling to Adis. There was kind like something connected between Adis and the woman. Adis just remembered it at the time while trying Adis was trying to figure out the purpose of the woman. Their meeting for the first time was happening at the T-junction near Adis' house. Now she is there out of nowhere. Mrs. Vanderwaal stands under the tree and Adis is in her car together with her father. Then it was like it should have been this way. Mrs. Vanderwaal stands under the tree which Adis always admires. Adis always loves unique things as if the tree that grew slowly. They were staring at each other until the car move away.

Adis thinks she recognizes the woman, she seems like someone she ever met, but still she is so different. She feels a little bit of the spirit that the woman tries to transfer to Adis. The woman Adis thinks to be strange is Mrs. Vanderwaal. She knows everything about Adis. She wants to let Adis know about the spirit she has. Yes, Mrs. Vanderwaal who is the woman under the tree knows so many things. She plans to wait for Adis under the tree. Until her plan the transmission of the spirit happened just by staring at each other. They communicate from distances, though it was only staring. It is not just about meeting a woman, who is standing under the tree that Adis had always, admires. There is a plan, a mission, and a purpose of it. The woman wants to meet Adis and she understands how to meet with Adis.

‘She knows me; she is a good girl fortunately.’

Mrs. Vanderwaal smiles while talking on the phone.

After thinking about that woman, Adis realizes that she gave a lot of thought to that woman. Well, as usual Adis tries to focus on her drawing again so that her mind is not distracted by many weird thoughts. She draws because she loves to put beautiful things on the paper but also she doesn’t want to think something strange. After finishing the beautiful flower she gets cold water and takes a nap.

She will have a nap before she continues her activity on this October afternoon literally. Adis really needs a power nap and because she has lots of things to do this month. Suddenly the doorbell rings, there is a guest visiting their house. Before she went to her bedroom, she opened the door. While opening the door Adis recognizes the woman who stared at here.

‘Good Afternoon Madam!’ She greets Mrs. Vanderwaal.

‘Oh Hi my Sweetie, Adis!’ Mrs. Vanderwaal hugs her.

She let the woman in and offered her a drink. While preparing the tea, there she accompanied Mrs.

Vanderwaal and it was the time she realizes that the guest with pink dress is the same woman with black T-shirt under the tree. Mrs. Vanderwaal is her Mom's best friend. Mrs. Vanderwaal visited her house for the last time when Adis was five years old. At that time Adis' Mom and Mrs. Vanderwaal made a promise to meet again when Adis is 20 years old. Fifteen years have passed by, then the time to tell Adis the truth comes. In that afternoon Mrs. Vanderwaal and Mom have a very touching story about fifteen years that just covered in hours. Adis was asking herself a lot of questions.

'Why is everything planned like this? Now I know the Woman under the tree. Well, she did intently stare at me because of this.' Adis talk to herself.

'Hi sweetie, how is life going?' Mrs. Vanderwaal greeted her when she was talking to herself. It was a little bit funny form Mrs. Vanderwaal to see Adis confused and keep silent for quite time. She understands that Adis must feel really curious about her and she cannot wait to tell story to Adis. Then Mrs. Vanderwaal grabbed Adis hand and told the story about her meeting under the tree. She told Adis that it was not the first time they met. Mrs. Vanderwaal knows very well about Adis since she was born. She told Adis that the last time she met Adis was when Adis was five years. Now it becomes even more interesting. Mrs. Vanderwaal tells her about leaving because of her task to help the nature. She had to leave as she wanted Adis become mature by herself and without any pressure from anyone. She does not want to let her know about the power.

They talked at each other that day. Adis starts to know the truth. Many confusions of her have been answered by Mrs. Vanderwaal. Her family look at Adis like a blossom flower that she has been introduced about the power. Then, everybody started to share love to each other. Even though Mrs. Vanderwaal did not tell her a story about something relating to the power Adis had in which Adis already knew about the power in her body but everything seem clearer. They start talking stories about loving nature, helping others and becoming better each day. Mrs. Vanderwaal told her this because she wanted Adis to become down to earth. It is really important that Adis should be mature and choose herself who she wants to be. That is the reason why everyone who knows Adis let her live by herself.

Mrs. Vanderwaal continued to tell Adis the truth of their meeting that afternoon. It is about the power that Adis has. She told the very big secret that every member of her house already knew about Adis' power but that they just keep it. It is because everyone wanted her to choose without any suggestion from her father, mother or brother. She told that the power should be owned by a beautiful heart. Adis has one. She told her that the power has made her able to think better and help something works fast and miraculously. Mrs. Vanderwaal continues that when someone owns that power it means that the person is very kind and can help anybody having difficulties. Then, Adis tries to remember what was happening to her life lately. She felt really blessed being a kind person that is able to help everyone. She remembered when she helped Grace to meet Alex again the couple that has been separated. She also remembered about the depressed kid that she helped. She came to the conclusion that she can control herself and that she is extra ordinary in her age until she reach maturity. Yeah, she finally notices this.

The girls start sharing stories about moment of using their spirit.

Mom starts telling her story about the power that Mom also ever had that power but then she never used the power the way it should be used. Then, Mom shares big mistake of making use of the power while being angry. She made the house become uncontrolled and everybody's mind was distracted by the unseen creatures. Because of that experience, the unseen creatures took the power as their weapon and used it for bad things. The unseen creatures became uncontrolled and disturbed the human. She continued that Mrs. Vanderwaal helped to manage that problem. She also told that because of that trouble, she cannot own the power any longer, but that the power is still in her genes. Mom told that when she gave birth to Adis, a sparkle appeared near the body. At that time she realized that Adis got the power. To not feed the bad habit, every member of her family just let her grow up without any pressure to make the pure heart of Adis herself.

Mrs. Vanderwaal teaches her how to control her power. It takes only few seconds to control it. This is because Mrs. Vanderwaal believes in Adis and Adis already has the pure heart, there is nothing to teach anymore because Adis already masters it. Only sometimes Adis ignores her power because she cannot imagine that there is power inside but she believes in her kindness. When there is an unseen creature, Adis doesn't think that it is only shadow. She always argues that she only sees shadows even though it is clear enough seen by her. Several times she sees the unseen creature, but she always ignores it. However Adis is always kind to anybody who needs help. She creates lovely situation and her house is full of love and kindness. Now there is nothing to be pretended. The atmosphere is purely lovely because Adis now knows that her family already knew about her power.

Mom lets Adis and Mrs. Vanderwaal share stories with each other. They are full of love and kindness. Adis tells about her experiences with having pure heart to Mrs. Vanderwaal. She always feels happy every time, she can not to argue but give solution. She makes everyone smile even with strangers. She feels really blessed that she can control herself. Then, Mrs. Vanderwaal shows something to her.

For three minutes, Mrs. Vanderwaal's body disappears. Adis keeps silent and tries to focus her mind to see Mrs. Vanderwaal again. It takes her to a better power that she in time can manage the power to see her, now she can see Mrs. Vanderwaal sitting beside her although Mrs. Vanderwaal is not visible by people without power. The time together makes Adis really understand her power and lets her know how to use the power.

‘I don’t think I will use this power.’ Adis said

Mrs. Vanderwaal explained that what she said is the other truth. The owner of that power won’t use the power because the kindness that existed beside that power is what the owner uses to help others.

‘O my love Adis. You are now really the truth of this power and you are really the owner of this power darling.’ Mom cuts off and hugs her.

Adis is just really the owner of the power because it is all her decision regarding the power. What Adis decides most of the time is what the criteria of the true owner of the power is. She is maintaining herself with power in herself. She manages everything well and she becomes really pure. The purity of Adis’ heart gives the power place to lie down. The power cannot be lied on a harsh heart. Then it found Adis, it took years to find the one who really has purity.

From that point, Adis lives her normal life. She feels free to share strange things to Mrs. Vanderwaal. It is not only Adis who feels free but also the other members of the family are feeling free to talk to Adis about her development. Mom frequently asks about her condition without feeling hesitate of Adis will knowing the truth as that was Mom always afraid of lately. The family now shares more love and everything is communicated better. There are no hidden secrets about the power of Adis.

The whole story began when Adis' brother decided to leave the power. Everything was kept secretly from Adis because of Dan. When he was seven years old, their parents told Dan to be careful of him and take care of the power. Their parents told the whole secret of the power, but since Dan was a child. He was under big pressure, Dan felt that he was not normal and thought that what he has seen was real. These problems made him depressed and made him unable to control himself. The power became very chaos and it needed owner to own that power. This escalated into a very crowded happening at their house, in the same way as what their Mother experienced.

Fortunately Mrs. Vanderwaal helped him and took the power. This made her confused about a good owner of the power. After a week of confusion in that clan, the sparkle appeared around every members of Adis' family. There in the evening where everyone is addressed to gather, future owner appeared to be the true owner of that power. There in front of all of the members, future Adis appeared with the sparkles. Noticing that, everyone started to think to keep it in their mind. From these experiences, Adis' parents did not want the same bad experience happen to Adis. So that's why they kept it secret.

CHAPTER SIX

She does not hope the thunderstorm will bring her dessert for her dinner. It is raining on 7 o'clock in the evening. Adis, her parents, Mrs. Vanderwaal, and Mr. Bronze have dinner in the same table after the thunderstorm.

Before the rain, Adis sits on the edge of the park reading book in her white shirt and jeans. Now, it is raining on 7 o'clock in the evening. Adis, her parents, Mrs. Vanderwaal, and Mr. Bronze have dinner in the same table after the thunderstorm. Before this dinner as well, Adis hangs out by herself to find some street foods and soft drink. She always means her day by having a lot of fun and enjoying everything she has to face in all her days. This afternoon, she visits a food stall to get grilled sausage and an apple juice. The food stall is not quite far from her house so she goes by foot. Mr. Bronze is performing on the other hand. This man sings several songs in the corner with his guitar and Adis watches him in a crowd. Many people records him while enjoying his performance and everything he speaks will be heard by anyone in those awesome fun crowd. That time, Mr. Bronze called out Adis' name. It was strange moment for Adis being called in that crowd while she was alone and she did not even know who the singer was. In her way going home, there she finds letter on her pocket says 'Hello, dear!' signed by Mr. Bronze.

She thinks about it calmly while drawing the crowd she just participated. She thinks that the crowd was just full of love that makes everyone stays and make bigger crowd. The moment that she only has an hour at that crowd really gives her inspiration in so many things. She imagines and draws a very artistic drawing by pouring her imagination into an evening set of drawing with a beautiful bunch of people in it. The drawing is yet finished but she begins imagining about Mr. Bronze and pours him into the drawing with his guitar. She puts the man with black t-shirt beautifully in the center of that corner. Adis finishes it and take the paper which is written for her strangely.

Her mother asks her a question as Adis just finished a very beautiful drawing instantly. Adis explains that she is inspired by the crowd she participated. They sit together in Adis' bedroom. Adis is a very nice girl that she is willing to share what other wanted to know as Adis tells her experiences that afternoon to her Mom. She is also a very kind daughter that she does not want her Mom to think a lot on the strange thing she feels. She only keeps the story about her name being called out strangely and the letter she got accidentally in her pocket written for her. Adis keeps talking about street food that she just enjoyed. The story is about the sausage and the sauce on it. Wait! Her Mom does not like when Adis frequently eat fast food.

Her day is running well that everything always makes her happy and she will just enjoy it. A teen with a simple mind and hard effort is what Adis' heart. Until the next day she meets him again. She is at the park reading her module books. She flips every page in a quite fast because she is a good reader. Adis always knows how to read her module book that she will make the clear summary after she finishes a chapter. Her favorite place at the park is under the tree, with small green carpet, she will stay there for hours. But then at the time she makes the summary, there is someone appears under the tree and sits beside her.

‘Oh you are the man.’ Adis does not seem shock but it is really interesting for her as she is really curious of Mr. Bronze.

There every curiosity is answered. Mr. Bronze with her style who talks in a funny way explain about something that Adis owns in herself. First, he laughs about the paper he put in Adis’ pocket. He feels sorry that he does not tell her before about his coming. It is because they actually could communicate through dream first and make it more planned but there has been surprised. Mr. Bronze is always that funny, he will talk wisely but then he is actually a rush person. That time, Adis listens at him intently with her lovely smile but there is no feeling of scary or something with strange man. Adis can understand that it is in relation with her power as Mr. Bronze really acts strangely. She knows someone who knows her well. Second, he laughs again that he appears beside her like a genie. Of course he is a human but her miraculous power already practiced several times and now he is the teacher. He explains that he is her teacher who will help her practice the power.

Mr. Bronze will lead and observe Adis until the New Year coming. He tells that he has limit time so he will teach her frequently as he only has two months long to teach Adis. Adis feel so close to him as Mr. Bronze knows so many things about her power. With the time goes, their stories become more serious but Mr. Bronze will keep laughing. He discuss about his experiences when he was not the expert of that power yet. He experiences the same with Adis, but he just funnier than her. What he does with his power is to help teens. Yeah, he helps teens from bullying and other troubles that teens might have. Adis is so excited to hear his stories and she closes her module book. Adis already accepts what Mr. Bronze said and she believes on it fully.

‘How do you hide your power when you help someone?’ Adis ask question that she has been thinking since Mr. Bronze showed off his power to Adis.

‘O! It does not matter dear. They will forget about what we did suddenly because that’s the nature of miraculous power, dear!’ Mr. Bronze answers with a wise face but laughs at the same time as his life is full of happiness.

He shares on how happy he is when he can make everyone laugh. He ever helped a teenager who is bullied because he has no car. Then Mr. Bronze just gave a dream to the one who bullied the poor teen. In the dream sent by Mr. Bronze, there is a situation that the naughty teen's parents are bankrupt and they have to sell the car to the teen he bullied. It could build the friendship between the teens. Another story is when Mr. Bronze held the book exhibition by himself to give a free book to poor students. He did it in the main entrance of the school, he used the power to open a book exhibition in a minute that he did at night, and in the morning he invited several students to get the books and then it disappeared at the next night.

He keeps smiling or if it is not, he keeps laughing. Adis will sometimes laugh because of his impression. This man seems like Adis' father if someone looks at them. They are close together and can enjoy the situation and people won't know that it is their first time meeting together. In that afternoon starts their communication in the park. As the time flies, the lunch time and they have to get their lunch. Mr. Bronze invite Adis to a restaurant where he first time used his power in public. The place where he knows that it is okay to use the power in public because none realized after the miracle happened. They go to Soul Soup Cafe and Mr. Bronze gives her the seat where he sat at the first time. He explains the detail of those experiences for the first time he used the power in public. That time, there was an accident in the kitchen. He saw smog came up from the kitchen and everybody went panic, he cannot pretend to be the firefighters because it was an accidents. He starts to about the power that comes up from his mind. He thinks hard of water comes from the roof of the kitchen, then he move his though to clean the kitchen from the water itself, then come to imagining of people still enjoying the meal. He smile at Adis that he told her when he got panic in deciding what to do at that accident. Mr. Bronze looks at the kitchen and remembers that time he was panic because he afraid that people would notice his power. He continued telling Adis his experience while move his hands there and here. Fortunately he said that it was happening based on what he thought hardly on how to stop the fire. Adis’ parents try to find out the book about the power that has been long time ago does not read as they never meet the two owner of the powers together, not after the moment they feel when they first meet to each other. They are the two owners that have glance to each other when they were a kid and unfortunately their parents did not recognize the connection. Only twenty years later they meet and become a couple. Yeah, Adis’ parents are the two owners that are together long time before they master the power. At the time they meet together the wind flew like a silk. Each of the owners feels the wind like the silk cover their bodies and now it is happening the same. The baby boy and Adis together enter the house and Adis’ parents feel the wind like silk cover their bodies. Her parents continue to find the book and would like to find out what will happen between Lutchia and Adis as they are the two owners that are together since the partner still a baby.

They open the door that rarely open since the power the owned already disappeared because they get married. Adis' father opens the small withdraw behind the door and takes the small book and flips it to find out the power of two owners. They find that if the two owners of the power are together but they are not a couple means that one of the owners will have more power. The power that Adis have become more that the others' power in the term of owning the power. Start from that point, they think on what is the intention of the nature meeting Adis and Lutchia in which Adis' power will become more that the others. For about weeks they still keep the secret about that because they won't make Adis think a lot. They want to set Adis as free as bird in the park. With no power anymore, they cannot find out anything unless there are the masters help them. They choose to wait and see what will happen as they believe Adis is the girl with pure heart. Each day Adis' parents and Adis herself take care of Lutchia and try not to notice the power shared by Lutchia. They keep the baby boy as the cute baby with a pure heart as Adis has. Somehow, Adis' parents try to look read the book again and again when Adis is not at home, but they don't find the clue yet. The book only tell that Adis have more power that the others and there is a purpose of their meeting together. Her daddy flips the page slowly and hopes that he does not miss any page, but still he does not find any intentions about the meeting of Adis and the baby boy. In other time, Adis' mother tries to find the answer from Lutchia when she takes care of Lutchia without Adis.

Adis' mother cannot wait to find out about the intention of meeting Adis and Lutchia as the baby boy who are not ordinary boy. She tries to find it on book but the result is nothing because it does not explain on the tragedy of meeting the owners of the power in a very early time. Her parents decide to tell the condition to Mr. Bronze and Mrs. Vanderwaal. This couple just released their power because they believe on Adis who wil manage the power as Adis has the very pure heart. The couple Mr. Bronze and Mrs. Vanderwaal decides to get married and they cannot manage the power any longer but they still also in charge about the power as they do not forget anything, the memories still in their heart and mind. This couple is really surprised to know that the kind of meeting power wind covers their body. Soon after they are informed by Adis' mother, they visit Lutchia and Adis.

Mrs. Vanderwaal takes Lutchia from his bed and she brings him to the main gathering in Adis house. There they have fun while having story about the power in the past decades when they have been storied by their parents also the grandparents. They all tell Adis story about the legend in the past and all of them who knows the story add any story and make the gathering until evening. From the dining room they move to swimming pool and they continue again the story. Adis absorbs all the stories and try to keep it on her mind so that she can remember the information relating to the power. They tell Adis a story about an owner a long time ago who owns a very pure heart and how secret he is. Each of the members in that gathering does not know about the White Heart, yeah the owner of the legend called to be 'White Heart', they are told by the parents or grandparents.

They enjoy the dinner and intently share the story about the White Heart. The story begins by remembering the legend who is said to be a very secret owner as he never known in the scope of persons own the power. The white heart can be detected by other owners by feeling the wind around them that suddenly will flew like a silk at the time the White Owner show himself, but he never appears and known by others. The White Heart is the hero of the world as he can talk to the owner in a hall where owners of the power has to gather in the special hall. He never shows himself but he helps the owners to practice their power and still stays surround them. After the story of the legend shared by Mrs. Vanderwaal, now they discuss about the same things happening toward Adis and Lutchia. They put Adis at the front with Lutchia and the others talk seriously about that. The couples who are Adis' parents and Mr. Bronze with Mrs. Vandewaal have a more intense talking about the two owners –Adis and Lutchia- on what will be going on toward Adis as she just trained for about two months and now she meets the baby boy early and even the parents does not know anything about that and also the books do not provide any future intention.

They discuss about Adis' power with the whole family of the generation of the power and they decide to look up into their ancestor because Adis' power is extraordinary. There in the living room everybody focus on Adis and help her concentrate so they can look into the past. They hold their hand together and Adis stay exactly at the south of the circle. They found out about centuries ago when the power is made up of a beautiful Princess of King and Queen. The whole members of the circle can look at the past the centuries, they saw how the King and Queen treated the very beautiful Princess. The Princess has very white eyes and her eyes sparkling to everyone who see her eyes. Her lovely eyes always make lots of people happy of her beauty. The princess had a very beautiful face and everyone sees her face will feel really happy of her beauty. They also found out the King and Queen was really wise and they treat the Princess to be really down to earth and taught her to always help their society in the castle. The Princess would happily become the part of any activity in her castle; she would help anyone needed help.

After looking on the beauty of the Princess, the whole members in the circle started to tremble as they saw the Princess was being disturbed by a man. There the Princess called out by a man that need her help to read him a book. There the Princess was willing to read as usual she would help anyone. But on a worst day that never be expected by anyone in this world, the man who fell in love with the Princess and he could not stop looking at the Princess. Until the man touched the Princess on her right hand, the Princess became sick and disappeared into a white sparkle flown to the sky. The strange man did not know that the Princess should be as pure as the water that should not be touched by anyone. The King and Queen already forbidden the Princess to go out of the castle but Princess was always willing to help as her purpose of living is to make everyone happy. The strange man became so sad and felt guilty about that so he decided to ask for a curse from his Lord and he disappeared into a tree at that park.

The power itself is the Beauty of the kind Princess that now own by Adis who also owns a very pure heart. The beauty and willingness of the kind Princess is gifted to a person who owns a very pure heart, kind and willingness to help anyone.

The discussion is not enough by one day meeting, and then the whole family gives to meet again and help Adis to manage the power. Each day Adis can do so many things in easier way, she can moves thing just by pointing her finger, she can jump until she flies. She realizes the power because each day she always finds out the she can do so many beautiful activities but she never expects those miraculous in her life. She never expects more. It is on New Year's Eve and Adis –the extraordinary owner of the clan- leads the pray to promise to their ancestor in helping others. And then unconsciously Adis look into the future and there she sees that Lutchia is next generation sent by their ancestor. Lutchia is prepared earlier to maintain the power because Adis won't lose the power after her married. She sees in the future that they are together help the people in living this life. This is the time of the one who is partner of Adis in owning her power and to practice the power. To maintain the existence of her power that Adis has and had been practiced and helped by the experts of them. As Adis is the one who will maintain the power but Adis will grow and meet her love, then Lutchia comes on the right time to be the next owner.

She is not an ordinary girl who has spirit that she couldn't name. The beautiful things always come to her as the bees come to flowers.

She is confused why she met strangers who are well-known to her family.

'Who are you?'

The pretty woman turns toward her at the park where she is reading.

'It's simple. Your family and I know you since you were born' He smiles.

When Adis is doing her activity, there always comes someone that later will tell her many stories about her and the spirit that she tries to ignore.
